

Cancun, Mexico

PACAM X

January 6 to 12, 2008

Cancun, or "Nest of Serpents" in the Mayan language, is Mexico's world famous tourist resort. Its sophisticated infrastructure, variety of top quality tourism services and diversity of attractions has turned it into the Caribbean's premier destination

Cancun is divided into two areas: one on the mainland, where the city itself is located, and the other, a 20-kilometer (12 mile)-long island occupied by the Hotel Zone. Cancun Island –shaped like a number "7"

Cancun's beaches are made of fine, soft white sand. The brilliant white color helps keep the sand cool by reflecting the sun's rays and it also retains less heat because it consists of a mixture of minute fragments of shell and ground coral. The beautiful turquoise color of the sea varies depending on the area and depth and in some places it ranges from deep blue to emerald green.
