

Curriculum Vitae
Xinchun Wang, Ph.D.

Education

Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics
Simon Fraser University, British Columbia, Canada
Dept. of Linguistics

MA in Applied Linguistics
Simon Fraser University, British Columbia, Canada
Dept. of Linguistics

BA in English
Shanghai Teachers' University
Department of English

Research Interests

- Applied Phonetics/Experimental Phonetics
- TESOL Theory and Methodology
- Computer Assisted Language Teaching (CALL)
- Cross-Linguistic Speech Perception and Production
- Online Teaching and Learning

Current Research Projects:

- Degree of foreign accent and length of residence in target language environments
- Computer assisted training for learning Mandarin tones
- Collaborative learning in web-based courses: process vs. product oriented learning tasks.

Teaching:

August 2009 –current Associate Professor of Linguistics
Department of Linguistics, California State University, Fresno

August 2003- July 2009 Assistant Professor of Linguistics
Department of Linguistics, California State University, Fresno

Recent graduate and undergraduate courses

Ling 231T Teaching Listening, Speaking, and Pronunciation
Ling 141 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages
Ling 155 Computer Assisted Language Learning (CALL)
Ling 139 General Phonetics
Ling 147 Bilingualism (face-to face and Web-based)
Ling 130 Language & Gender
Chinese 1A and Chinese 1B

August 2002 - June 2003 Full Time Lecturer
Department of Linguistics, California State University, Fresno

Jan. 2002 – May 2002 Part Time Lecturer
The Chinese University of Hong Kong
Developed and taught an MA in TESOL course:
“Linguistics and Language Teaching”

Summer Semester 2001 Sessional Instructor
Department of Linguistics, Simon Fraser University

Fall 2000-Summer 2001 Language Instructor
Language Training Institute, Simon Fraser University

Jan. 1995 – Fall 2001 Teaching Assistant
Department of Linguistics, Simon Fraser University

July 1988 - Dec. 1994 Full Time Lecturer
Department of English
Shanghai University for Science and Technology

Feb. 1982 - July 1988 Full Time English Instructor
Shanghai No. 6 Normal School

Other experience:

Nov. 2001- May2002 Visiting Research Scholar
Language Center, Hong Kong Baptist University
ESL Pronunciation/Inter-language phonology

April 1997- Sept. 1999 Research Assistant & Research Associate TeleLearning NEC (a Canadian government funded project for promoting Internet Technology in education)